Specialist planning

auviso designs and plans user-friendly solutions for installations of media and lighting technology – cost-effectively, reliably, sustainably, objectively and based on current phase models in the construction industry.

Our tailor-made project planning provides you with forward-looking, high-quality and aesthetic solutions. We accompany and support your project during a preliminary study, project development, in the tendering process and in the technical operating concept.

Our concepts are cost-effective, reliable and user-friendly, whilst also being sustainable and saving resources. Individual overall concepts with specific solutions are our speciality. With many years of experience, we are experts in collaborating with different stakeholders such as building contractors, general contracting companies, architects, electrical engineers and public authorities.

Client representation

We enhance your skills with our experience and also represent you during all phases of the project – from the investment decision through to commissioning.

Our services

Our specialist planners support your project throughout the entire planning process in accordance with the current construction industry phase model.
